Important Notes:

Accommodation and meals are not provided. You will need to use your subsistence allowance to cover these expenses. For information about available places in students' dormitories or renting a flat, please contact the host University.

In majority of cases you will have to buy the ticket yourself and receive refund calculated on the basis of the amounts and distances in the table above. The refund will be done by the Program Country University.

Subsistence allowance is paid upon the Confirmation of arrival sent to the home University and you will need to have an active bank account. Please check in advance whether you will need to open the bank account in the host country or not.

Medical insurance is not provided by Erasmus+ program.

Upon arrival first visit the International Relations Office of your host University. If you are staying more than 3 months you will need to get a temporary stay visa or student's visa. Either way is you need to register at the local Office for Foreigners. For more information, please contact the host University International Relations Office.

We hope you will enjoy your mobility where ever you go!
